EnTelegent Solutions Announces new SIP Trunk Products

July 11, 2011 Charlotte, NC: Charlotte-based EnTelegent Solutions today announced an expansion of its SIP Trunking line-up of services.

It now offers SIP trunking in all major markets across the lower 48 states and allows customers the option of bringing their own broadband service as a part of the solution. Most importantly, EnTelegent offers an unlimited local and long distance SIP offering.

SIP Trunking is frequently bundled with hosted PBX and other VoIP services. EnTelegent's new offer gives the customer the option to unbundle the trunks to take advantage of cost savings options. EnTelegent can support multiple CODECs and can source CPE or work with customer-provided equipment. Its new offers include full measured, unlimited local and unlimited long distance offerings. The serving network has multiple switching sites to provide maximum up-time and reliability to the customer. When combined with its strong customer service and support reputation, EnTelegent believes it has an outstanding offer for the business telecom market.
